Stallion Transportation Earns Top Safety Award at Trucking Conference

Arkansas Trucking Association recognizes Stallion, other carriers for safety records

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. – Stallion Transportation Group and other carriers were honored at the Arkansas Trucking Association Conference during the awards luncheon on May 16 in Hot Springs, Ark.

The association recognized winners in ten categories, as well as an overall grand champion celebrating the safest fleets among the Arkansas Trucking Association member companies.

Stallion claimed the grand champion title for logging over 2.7 million miles on Arkansas highways throughout 2024 with zero accidents.

"These safety achievements represent the gold standard in our industry," said ATA President Shannon Newton. "Stallion Transportation Group's perfect safety record exemplifies the extraordinary commitment to safety that distinguishes our association members. The fleets we honor with these awards aren't just moving freight—they're raising the bar for highway safety through rigorous standards, innovative training and an unwavering culture of responsibility that benefits every traveler on our roads."
